

Sailing Serenely

BY BILL MERIWETHER

“This afternoon I began reflecting on the many reasons why I am so profoundly grateful to Pathfinders for their help. . . .

There are many psychological as well as practical reasons why. First there are the counselors who are eminently qualified to search within each client to determine how best to help the client achieve his or her personal dream. In my case, my Pathfinder learned in the first few minutes that I am an artist with several specific goals.

I wanted to establish a website and provide the public with a way to use my life’s work for their own practical applications and personal enjoyment. My Pathfinder, Lindsay, helped get the Teen Angel Volunteer Club involved and my goal has been achieved with their technological skills. I sail serenely forward with a profound sense of achievement. Very uplifting indeed. Pathfinders also provided my wife and I with groceries, meals and assistance with transportation. I have bone cancer and find my time to be short. It has been a joy for us to participate with Pathfinders in our journey.”
